

Sharing Experiences

What made the conversation difficult?

What self-talk was going on in your head before, during, and after the conversation?

Can you think of a time when you decided to let an issue go and not have a difficult conversation? Why?

