

A WEEK IN Learning

L&D RECOMMENDATIONS

for TED Talks, podcasts, books, and more!

EMPOWERING MINDS: EXPLORE, CONNECT, & LEARN

Recommended by Christina Lowry, Operations Specialist, Organizational Development

Are you looking for a FREE, one-stop online location to attend learning events and connect with others who love to learn? A great site that I visit regularly is the Family Action Network. FAN works closely with school administrators, nonprofit leaders, clinicians, and community members to explore potential speakers and topics.

The Family Action Network events are completely free to the public and it is very easy to register and join over Zoom. In fact, part of the FAN mission states: “We want knowledge to be as accessible as possible to as many people as possible.” If you can’t make it to a live event you are interested in, just visit the FAN Media Library and re-watch past events with just a couple of clicks.

Example Topics of Past/Upcoming Events: leadership, education, psychology, social change, communication, relationships, and well-being.

As prices for necessities seem to rise daily, we are sometimes forced to set aside the cost of things like learning and development. The Family Action Network allows you to jump that financial hurdle, providing a compassionate, educated community to learn from.

Click each link below for more information

Let us know what you thought of this week’s content.

Read more about this recommendation.

Learn more about the L and D team.

To view this Week in Learning, and more, please visit: <https://gwl-az.org/WIL>

